Loki Clan Wolf Refuge

September 2010

Busy Summer

The odd weather of the past winter left its mark — hundreds of weak and fallen trees. Not only did we spend all of the first two fence parties removing them, but most of the time in between. A couple nearly monsoon-like summer rain storms meant the roads and paths around the refuge needed even more work.

We're also building a new maintenance garage. The foundation has been dug, but progress has slowed as we wait on the concrete contractor. We're still hoping, though, to have it up before the winter.

As always, a busy summer and getting busier as we try to wrap up our warm weather projects before the snow flies.

New Arrivals

Cochise has a new girlfriend named Spruce. Spruce comes from Maine where she was something of an escape artist. Unfortunately, some threats were made and for her safety, her owners decided that it would be best to move her to LCWR where she's much more welcome.

Moon has some difficulty getting along with others, so we moved Ishta in with him. Hopefully, she'll be able to teach him some much needed social skills.

Sequoia and Allister are an old couple originally from New Mexico. The owner moved to CT, but couldn't keep them in that state, so now they've joined Piate & Lother's pack here at the Refuge where they've fit right in. Keta has also joined this pack and is Allister's new (younger) girlfriend.

New Website

After much hard work and a ton of generosity from many, our new website is ready for prime time! Check it out — we want to know what you think. Just enter www.lokiclan.org in your address bar and enjoy!

Pow Wow Time

Loki Clan was recently invited to present information on the Refuge, wolf-hybrids and wild wolves at the 3rd Great Northern Moose Inter-Tribal Pow-Wow in Dummer, NH. Not only were Naomi and Denne able to share their love and knowledge of wolves, but they were also invited to participate in some of the demonstrations, including a drumming ceremony. Thanks to Richard Tessier for asking us to participate, and also to Lloyd Alexander for donating a part of his photography proceeds to the Refuge. His photos of Loki Clan wolves were very popular.

A canid is a canid....

Phoenix (on the left) came to us recently and while a canid, and probably a cross, we're not so sure about wolf....any guesses as to what she is?
